To Whom It May Concern:

Subject: Part and Packaging Marking for RoHS Compliance

MtronPTI is a leading manufacturer of Frequency Control Devices. With the upcoming European Directive of Restrictions of Hazardous Materials (RoHS), MtronPTI is fully engaged in implementing the requirements of this standard. MtronPTI expects to be in full compliance by the June 30, 2006 deadline.

As part of the process, MtronPTI has determined the following in regards to part marking and subsequently, package marking. There are two scenarios that would apply to the products supplied by MtronPTI.

1. MtronPTI offers several families of products that have been in compliance with RoHS standards since their inception. For these products, there are no plans to modify the part number or the part marking. The part marking will not be modified due to the small nature and limited space available on these parts. The material utilized to package and protect the products consists of bulk (plastic bags), tubes, or tape-and-reel. The package material would have a marking showing "RoHS Compliance". This will be effective by June 30, 2005.
2. For the products offered by MtronPTI, which have not been in compliance with RoHS standards, a minor part number change will be implemented upon completion of the steps to ensure RoHS compliance. The part number will be modified to include "-R" at the end of the part number. (See MtronPTI web site for the schedule of RoHS implementation for each family of products.) In this case, the part marking would be modified to include the "-R" as space allows. As mentioned above, the packing material will also be identified with the appropriate "RoHS Compliance" marking. Process Change Notifications are in process to fully document these changes. These will be posted on the MtronPTI web site upon completion.

Should you have any questions, concerns, or comments about the MtronPTI RoHS program, please do not hesitate to contact the MtronPTI sales office at 1-800-762-8800 or 605-665-9321.
